

Early Childhood TLC Track #5: Switch Factory

Hello! My name is Nick.

I have an important job of flipping a switch.

My boss keeps me busy throughout this song, and I flip switches all day long.

Hey there Nick! Can you flip a switch? I've got a problem that I need you to fix!

The switch over there, next to your foot. I need you flip it. It can't stay put!

It sure looks like that did the trick, but you gotta keep it going to fix the glitch.

Hey there Nick! Can you flip a switch? I've got a problem that I need you to fix!

The switches over there, next to your hands. I need you flip them. You're the man!

It sure looks like that did the trick, but you gotta keep it going to fix the glitch.

Hey there Nick! Can you flip a switch? I've got a problem that I need you to fix.

The switch over there, by your behind. It needs flipped. I hope you don't mind.

It sure looks like that did the trick, but you gotta keep it going to fix the glitch.

Hey there Nick! Can you flip a switch? I've got a problem that I need you to fix.

The switch over there, next to your head. I need you flip it. Don't make me get Ted!

It sure looks like that did the trick, but you gotta keep it going to fix the glitch.

Hey there Nick! Can you flip a switch? I've got a problem that I need you to fix.

The switch over there, next to your tongue. I need you flip it. Yep. That's the one!

It sure looks like that did the trick, but you gotta keep it going to fix the glitch.

Hey there Nick! Everything is fixed. You can stop flipping. It's the end of your shift!

"Well great! We lost power! Who's supposed to be working the switches. Somebody find Ralph. Tell him Ted's looking for him! Get someone else on the switches now!!!"
